

Fill schedule gaps with everseat.

Unexpected schedule changes and unplanned openings are neither consistent nor predictable. Often there are patients nearby who need appointments but don't take the time to call. everseat lets you announce open seats to interested patients. A patient grabs an appointment via the free mobile app—you confirm, and the patient is booked within minutes. It's faster, easier and more fun than time-consuming, often unsuccessful, phone calls or wait lists.

It's that simple.

You post it, they see it. No more calling your wait list patients one by one or letting empty appointments go unfilled.

You post it.

When you have an unfilled appointment slot or cancellation, add it to everseat.

They grab it.

Waiting patients see your appointment immediately and can request it right from their phone.
